Hank:

1. I believe that we should immediately devote some of the Center's more imaginative personnel assets in an organized effort to develop a concept for a near real-time Center. Such a concept would encompass a functional organizational plan, physical facilities, operational mode, etc.
2. Obviously, this sort of planning is going to be done - and must be done in the near future if the concepts are to be implemented by the 73-74 time frame, (e.g., the development of a building concept, the architectural design, the funding process, and actual construction time could easily take us to 74, even if begun now). What I propose, if accepted, would place the Center in a position to play a significant role in coming events.
3. I would like to have an opportunity to discuss this with you.
